Who can apply?

STSMs are open for PhDs, PostDocs, and other early career researchers employed at institutions in countries participating in “Justice360”, or at approved institutions. STSMs must be performed between COST countries - researchers cannot apply for an STSM within their own country.

Priority will be given to Early Career Investigators (ECI) (maximum 8 years since obtaining their PhD at the time of application) and PhD students working on topics within the EU COST Project: Justice 360: <https://justice-360.com/>

Particular consideration will also be given to candidates moving from/to COST Inclusiveness Target Countries (ITCs), which include Bosnia-Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Estonia, Croatia, Hungary, Lithuania, Latvia, Luxembourg, Malta, Montenegro, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Slovenia, Slovakia, the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, Republic of Serbia and Turkey.

Awards throughout the annual grant period (15 November 2022- 30 September 2023) will be made to support scientific excellence, and to support a variety of researchers in terms of gender, career stage, affiliation, and nationality.

What can you apply for?

You can apply for a short term scientific mission of the duration between 5 and 90 days (and up to 180 days if the applicant is an ECI (9 STSM altogether are available!). The STSM will be a fixed grant to cover part of the travel expenses and living allowance. The cost of research materials is not eligible for consideration as part of the grant.

STSM funding will be awarded according to the COST key principles of:

- Excellence
- Inclusivity
- Balance

Additional Criteria for evaluation will be as follows:

- The relevance and application of the research to the field of the Action – a Motivation letter will help determine if the scientific aims of the work will be relevant and applicable to the Action’s aims (1-5 points).
- The quality and clarity of the Proposed Research and Proposed Activities - The STSM application should be of high quality, arguing clearly and cogently the importance and timeliness of the research (1-5 points).
- The choice of Host institution – the applicant must give specific scientific reasons for visiting their chosen Host institution. We will also be tracking the geographical distribution of the Host institutions to ensure there is an evenly-spread network for knowledge transfer. Involvement of ITC countries will be a plus (1-5 points).
- The home institution of the researcher – We will take into account the number of applications from each institution to ensure a fair spread of researches across the network. Involvement of ITC countries will be a plus (1-5 points)
- The profile of the researcher – We will take into account the researcher’s potential of successfully completing the STSM on the basis of their previous work and achievements commensurate to their career stage. In line with COST policy, Justice 360 will preferentially award STSMs to early career investigators (PhD + <8 years). This should not discourage more experienced researchers from applying (1-5 points).
